The International ACAC conference is the premier networking and educational event for educational professionals working with high school students in planning postsecondary options. It brings together school counselors, university admissions officers, and representatives from other advising organizations, all serving students in the transition process to university. This year, we expect over 1,550 attendees from more than eighty countries. International ACAC is a not-for-profit organization (US taxpayer ID 141-82-7265).

The International ACAC is a particularly important resource for professionals who support international students as they make their transition to higher education. For this reason, we are pleased to have so many members from around the world take part in this year's conference in Boston, Massachusetts, USA. Attendees are responsible for covering the expenses of their visit (e.g., travel, accommodations, insurance, etc.) during their stay in the United States. While many attendees will stay in local hotels, approximately 650 will stay in on-campus housing, specifically the International Village Residence Hall at Northeastern University.

We appreciate any assistance you can offer our members as they travel to join us for our Annual Conference. Please direct any questions to our administrative office at the address or phone number below.

Sincerely,

Liam McCartney
